D. C. Ashmore Appointed as City Trustee

New Members Take Steps to Become Acquainted With Their Duties

Legal, Engineering and Other
Fees for Central Ave.
Bulk Large

With Donald C. Ashmore in his place as newly appointed city trustee to fill the vacancy caused by the recent resignation of W. J. Lawless, the practically entire new council got down to hard work Tuesday afternoon at an unusually long and busy session. Mr. Ashmore has the endorsement of many citizens as a very thorough and efficient business man and has been a valued member of the local library board for several years.

Indication of the thoroughness with which the new councilmen are tackling their jobs is seen in the request by Trustee Reavis for a complete report of the financial condition of the water department, and a similar request from Trustee Stewart for the city engineer to prepare a comprehensive chart showing the entire organization of the city government, salaries of all employees, and other information that might be helpful to the new board in getting their bearings.

The ordinance changing the council meeting time from afternoon to evenings was given the second reading and will go into effect next Tuesday, June 11, when the trustees will convene at 7:30 p. m. This is to enable the new members who are so employed during the day that they cannot attend the day meetings, to be present at the regular sessions of the board.

An itemized statement of the cost for engineering and legal services on the Central Avenue project to date, as requested at last Tuesday's council meeting were presented by Robert Wygant, former city attorney, as follows:

Paid up bills on Central Avenue project to date, $9703. Payments still due: Robert Wygant for attorney's fees, $500; appraisers' fees, January 3 to April 1, Thomas W. Neale, $300; W. S. Andrews, $325; H. Holabird, $750; Title and Insurance Co., $2200; H. S. Gierlich, engineer of work, $2370.53. Total amount unpaid, $6445.53.

Other bills presented by Mr. Wygant were $500 for Montecito Avenue project, $500 for Canyon Park pool and bath house, $500 for opening canal widening Sierra Madre Avenue, $50.

Mr. Wygant turned over all data relating to the Montecito project and formally withdrew as city attorney.

Twelve bids for the roofing of the Grove Street reservoir were opened and referred to City Engineer O. A. Gierlich for checking and report at the next meeting.

An ordinance for a 50-foot setback line on Lima Street, north of Grand view Avenue, was adopted and given first reading upon presentation of a petition from the City Planning Commission. The petition was signed by Oscar Seiling, president; Mrs. Sally Osgood, secretary, and other members of the commission.

A communication to the city from Crane Company of Los Angeles, signed by G. S. Barry, assistant sales manager, stated:

"Referring to your resolution of May 28, in which your board voted to reconsider its action in approving a contract recently awarded to us for furnishing pipe (Resolution No. 423 of May 15, and No. 429 of May 27), we wish to go on record as considering the contract which was actually signed and executed, as binding. On the strength of it as well as the two resolutions just referred to, we have ordered certain materials to come from the National Tube Company at Pittsburgh and our factory at Chicago, some of which are actually in transit at the present time.

"In view of the above, as we intend making deliveries within the next few weeks, we will appreciate your returning our copy of the contract in order to complete our file."

(Signed, "Crane Company," "G. S. Barry, Asst. Sales Mgr.")
On motion of the board, the contract was referred to the committee of the whole.

WHY KEEP QUIET ABOUT OUR WATER?

One of Sierra Madre's greatest assets is her abundant supply of cool mountain water. Many casual visitors to the city, or those who are just passing thru could easily be made aware of that fact if we had two or three public drinking fountains conveniently located in the central part of town and suitably labeled.

Perhaps one good location would be in front of our splendid new city hall and another on Kersting Court near the waiting station of the Pacific Electric. We would never need worry about them freezing up here on the streets.

Not only would this be an excellent means of advertising the city, but it would be the means of promoting health by encouraging the drinking of more water, especially the Sierra Madre kind.

We drop this little suggestion at this timely season of the year and if the city authorities should not feel disposed to act upon the matter, perhaps some of the various civic organizations would see merit in the idea and promote it.

'Kindling' to Be Seen With Splendid Cast

Two New Faces Will Be Seen
In Production by Community Players

When the Community Players present "Kindling" at the Woman's Club House on June 14 and 15, a cast well calculated to give a finished, splendid performance will be seen by local theatre-goers and supporters of the Players. The cast as announced by the committee in charge:

Maggie Schultz..... Mary Allen
Heinrich Schultz..... Wilfred Gruitt
Mrs. Bates..... Ethel Hawks
Steve Bates..... James N. Hawks
Mrs. Burk Smith..... Agnes Robertson
Alice..... Catherine Sinnott
Rafferty..... R. O. Calkin
Mr. Howland..... John H. Osgood
Donovan..... Harold Tweedale
Dr. Taylor..... Bert M. Finlayson

Following the policy of the organization in developing and presenting new talent whenever possible, two new players will make their appearance before a local audience, Mrs. J. H. Robertson and Miss Catherine Sinnott. Miss Allen, a University of California student home from Berkeley on her vacation, will be remembered as having taken part in "Dulcy" last year. R. O. Calkin and Harold Tweedale have appeared in fairly recent performances. Wilfred Gruitt is seen again after a non-appearance of about two years. Those perennial favorites, Mr. and Mrs. James N. Hawks, John Osgood and Bert Finlayson will complete a cast which insures a very creditable performance. Mrs. H. E. Allen is directing.

Box office sheets will be at Hartman's where seats may be obtained at the usual prices.

Two Hurt in Auto Accident on the Foothill Blvd.

T. R. Kimbrough, a shoe repairman residing at 167 East Montecito, and his daughter, Mrs. Mattie Pitchford, were painfully injured Sunday on the Double Drive near Oakwood, when their Chevrolet touring car was hit broadside by a car being rapidly driven by Job J. Denni, route 2, Anaheim. It is asserted that as Mr. Kimbrough turned onto the Foothill Boulevard, the Denni car hit him, turning the car completely around and dragging it about twenty feet. The body of the car was badly damaged. Mrs. Pitchford was thrown out of the car, sustaining a fractured shoulder blade, a bad cut on her upper lip and severe bruises on both limbs. Mr. Kimbrough suffered a wrenched back, fractured knee cap and bruises. They are both improving nicely.

The music section of the Woman's Club will meet Tuesday evening, June 11th, for a Scotch program. The meeting is postponed from last evening, as stated elsewhere in this issue of the News.

Death Calls T.M. Webster Monday Eve.

End Comes Suddenly as the Result of Cerebral
Hemorrhage

1969
Old-Time Resident Held in Highest Esteem by Townsmen

A pall of deep sorrow was thrown about the city Tuesday morning when it became known that Tasker M. Webster, for many years a leading figure in church, social and civic life of Sierra Madre had been called by the angel of death late Monday night.

Mr. Webster had attended the regular meeting of the board of directors of the chamber of commerce of which he was a member on Monday night. Following the adjournment he formed one of a small group of directors who gathered to discuss interesting details of the meeting, and at that time appeared in perfect health. He made his companions his usual cheery good night, and departed for his home at 101 Bonita Ave.

He reached home apparently in good health, driving his car into the garage as usual. Mrs. Webster heard the car as it was driven in, and after a few moments of waiting stepped out to determine the reason for Mr. Webster's non-appearance. She had approached close to the garage when she heard her husband moan faintly, and then discovered him lying on the ground, still breathing but unable to respond to her entreaties. She immediately called to Ray Grant, who in turn summoned Dr. A. L. Jackson and together they hurried to the stricken man's side. They found him still alive, but though every possible recourse was taken he failed to rally. Death followed shortly after the arrival of his two old friends, and was caused, according to Dr. Jackson by a cerebral hemorrhage.

Tasker M. Webster was born in Brooklyn, N. Y., on January 13, 1872. Upon reaching his majority he came west and located in Sierra Madre in the year 1893. In the year 1907 he was united in marriage to Mrs. Caroline H. Hawkhurst of San Francisco, and to this union two sons, Marvin and Robert were born.

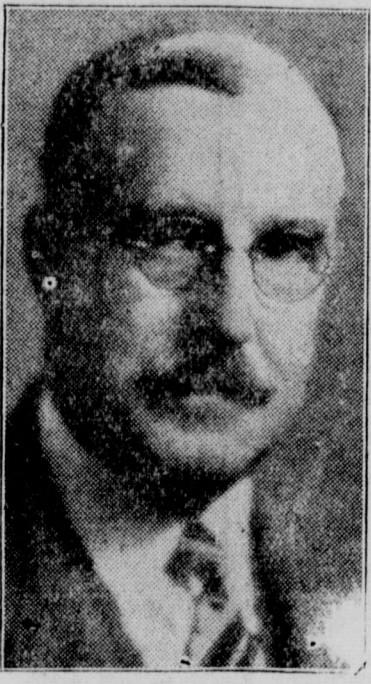

Mr. Webster engaged early in the business of contracting and building, and was known as a thorough, conscientious workman. His employers and associates learned soon to place implicit faith in his word and deeds and in his business and social relations he was ever just. A lifelong member of the Episcopal church, he was for many years a member of the local vestry. In civic affairs his services were often sought and he served many years on the board of directors of the chamber of commerce, a member of the city council, and other civic bodies. Upon the formation of the local Kiwanis Club he was chosen district representative and was later made president of the organization which he served well and faithfully.

Mr. Webster in his younger days was an accomplished musician and he organized and directed the first Sierra Madre band, an organization which functioned with much success in the early days. Upon the organization of a band in this city last summer Mr. Webster was importuned to direct, but declined, preferring to be one of the musicians, and playing solo cornet. This desire was characteristic of his action to assist in every way any project designed for the welfare of the community.

He was of generous, kindly nature and no appeal for aid ever came to his attention without meeting a favorable response if the cause was worthy. His smile was spontaneous, and his genial, kindly manner will be missed by his friends here, who are legion.

Mr. Webster is survived by his widow, two sons, two sisters, Mrs. H. E. Vannier of 153 South Hermona and Miss Lydia Webster, 131 Bonita Avenue; and three brothers, C. J. Webster of Newport, B. F. Webster of South Pasadena and E. J. Webster of Brooklyn, N. Y.

Funeral services, delayed to await the arrival of his son, Robert, who sailed Monday for San Francisco, will be held this afternoon from St. Luke's Episcopal Church, Monrovia, at 3 o'clock. Interment will be made in Sierra Madre cemetery.

TASKER M. WEBSTER
As a mark of respect to one who has been a leader in every community enterprise, the merchants of Sierra Madre will close their places of business today from 3 to 4 p.m.

Department Given Car by E. L. Sapp

Chief Richards and Crew at Work Remodeling
Welcome Gift

The Sierra Madre Volunteer Fire Department, already known as the best volunteer department in the San Gabriel Valley, will advance another step toward absolute perfection soon as the result of the gift of a Buick chassis received Tuesday from E. L. Sapp, Buick dealer for Monrovia and Sierra Madre. Mr. Sapp saw the story in recent issues of the News concerning the desire of the department for a chassis to convert into an emergency outfit, and having a '22 Buick on the floor that was not working he told Joe Belolahavek to tell Chief Richards that the truck was there subject to his orders.

The car was brought over Tuesday afternoon and before long a gang of the boys, headed by Frank Lovell, were looking over its "innards" and putting it in its "innards" and putting it in its "innards". The car is in splendid running order and has two very good tires.

A new steel body will be built by the members of the department and the finished job will carry the first aid outfit, the resuscitator, fire extinguishers, tools and hose, and will be able to cope with the small fires, answer calls for first aid, and aid materially in all the work of the department. Donations will be welcomed by the department, as it will be necessary to equip the car with a siren, red lights, spot light, etc. A couple of cans of cardinal red paint will be welcomed—if you should happen to have a can or two left over from a "town-painting" job.

The boys are highly elated at the success of their little publicity campaign, and are taking time off from the job to express their appreciation to the various agencies that assisted in making their wants known and supplying the said wants.

Annual Masonic Ball-Card Party Well Attended

The annual Masonic ball and card party in the Masonic Temple Friday night, May 31, was a great success from both financial and social standpoints. The decorating committee, headed by Harold Roberts deserves special credit. Orange and green crepe paper in strips formed a colorful ceiling, enhanced by the vari-colored flood lights in the corners and placed so they shone through the French doors upon the dancers.

Good music was furnished by a Los Angeles Orchestra. Punch was served during the evening. The grand march was formed, led by Mr. and Mrs. Roberts, the guests given favors, futuristic dolls in pastel colors for the ladies and crepe aviator hats with black goggles for the gentlemen.

The prizes at bridge were won by Mrs. Ashmore, first for the ladies; Mrs. Holland, ladies' consolation, and Mr. Klunk, men's consolation.

The committee in charge of the affair was composed of Frank Spencer, Harold Roberts, Raymond Andrews, Tom Schwartz and Arthur Evans.

Sierra Madre To Celebrate July Fourth

Chamber of Commerce Takes Initial Step Toward
Gala Day

Interesting Program to Be Arranged for Local 'Stay-at-Homes'

Sierra Madre residents who desire to remain within the confines of their own home town and to escape the "mobs and mobs" of people who will be on the road July 4th will not be entirely without an opportunity to hear the eagle scream and the sound of martial music.

At the meeting of the Chamber of Commerce tentative plans for a Fourth of July celebration were discussed. The matter was finally referred to the entertainment committee of which Joe R. Eastwood was appointed chairman following the resignation of W. R. Humphries.

Plans for the celebration will be announced in a short time, and will probably include a short afternoon program, a picnic dinner at the city park, a comprehensive program of music and entertainment immediately following the dinner hour, a demonstration by the local fire department, and a grand ball on the tennis courts as a finale to the day's festivities.

Other matters of interest were taken up by the directors and discussed at some length, being referred to the proper committees for action.

A request from the Long Beach Breakfast club for a thirty minute program by Sierra Madre artists was presented, the date suggested being the morning of July 2nd. The request was made by Arnold Kruckman, program head for the club and well known in Sierra Madre. Mr. Kruckman was in immediate charge of the successful Pacific Coast Exposition at Long Beach last summer, and has taken up his residence in the beach city. The request was referred to Mr. Eastwood, chairman of the entertainment committee for the local chamber of commerce with instructions to procure a representative group of local artists to present the morning program, which will be broadcast over KGER of Long Beach.

Members of the board of directors present at the Monday night meeting were Charles B. Klunk, T. M. Webster, J. E. Carpenter, Ray A. Grant, W. R. Humphries, James C. Heasley, R. C. Copenhaver, W. E. Pratt, Miss Clara Sykes, Mrs. W. C. Gruitt, Miss Elizabeth Steinberger and Miss Laura E. Cadmus.

Local Bank Gets Specimens of Size Of New Currency

The Sierra Madre Savings Bank has just received some specimens showing the size of the new U.S. currency which is promised to be started in circulation July 10, 1929. The new bills measure only 2 1/2 inches wide by 6 1/2 inches long. This contrasts greatly with the old "bills" which are practically one inch larger each way.

To aid in identifying the various denominations, the portraits of famous men will appear on the face of the currency as follows: Washington, $1; Jefferson, $2; Lincoln, $5; Hamilton, $10; Jackson, $20; Grant, $50; Franklin, $100; McKinley, $500; Cleveland, $1000; Madison, $5000, and Chase, $10,000.

Editor's Note: Perhaps very few of our readers know who Chase was, but don't worry for you will perhaps never have occasion to identify his portrait. Just so we know Washington, Jefferson and Lincoln will be sufficient.

AGED RESIDENT PASSES INTO GREAT BEYOND

The funeral of John Forbes, aged 73, who died recently at the Pasadena Hospital, will be held from the St. Ritas Catholic Church next Saturday morning, June 8, at 10 o'clock. A Rosary service was held this morning at 8:30 o'clock at the C. F. Lamb Funeral Chapel of this city, in whose charge the funeral is being held.

Mr. Forbes was a single man, living at 276 Grand View Avenue. He is survived by one sister, Miss Margaret Forbes, also of Sierra Madre. He was born in Indiana, but had lived here for a number of years.

FAMILY IN NEED OF EMPLOYMENT

A Sierra Madre family is reported in destitute circumstances and very much in need of employment for either the father or the mother of the two small children. The father has been out of work for some time due to illness and is able to pick up only an occasional temporary job. The mother states that she has had experience as saleslady and also as bookkeeper, but will do housework or anything to earn some money.

This seems to be an opportunity for someone to aid in relieving distress. The family is loath to ask for or accept charity, much preferring to work for their livelihood.

A telephone call to the News office, Main 260, will be sufficient if anyone can offer work to these people.

BUILDING PERMITS SHOW AN INCREASE

The building permits for May, 1929, show a several thousand-dollar increase over the same period last year. For the last month the total is $9800 as compared with $1448 for May, 1928.

Begin Posting For Cleaning Up City Lots

If Work Not Done by June
18, City Will Authorize
Clean-Up

Posting of lots that must be cleaned up to eliminate fire hazard and also add to the appearance of the city began Thursday and will continue steadily until the job is completed, according to J. E. Carpenter, superintendent of the street and water department.

Owners may either clean up the lots as ordered or protest to the city authorities up to 7:30 p. m. Tuesday, June 18. Otherwise the city will start the work of cleaning these lots off Wednesday morning, June 19, and the charge (figured exactly at cost) will become a lien against the property, and probably be figured in with the fall tax statement. City officials much prefer not to be forced to take this action and hope that lot owners will cooperate in this commendable work for safety and beautification.

Before doing any burning other than in an incinerator, it will be necessary in all cases to get a permit from the police department of Sierra Madre. Burning in the Canyon Park district or adjoining foothill section, however, is strictly prohibited by the United States federal government, for this region comes within the forestry department's jurisdiction.

Central Avenue Association Plans To Enlarge Scope

At a recent meeting of the Central Avenue Property Owners Association, it was decided to enlarge the personnel of the committee to embrace the different sections of the city, with a view to having the organization become known as the "Property Owners' Association of Sierra Madre."

It is thought advisable to keep up the organization on this enlarged scale in order to be of service to property owners thru out the city and to more effectively cooperate with the city trustees, according to a letter sent out to certain citizens who have been elected to membership on this advisory committee.

Twilight Baseball Practice Resumed Here on Tuesday

Twilight baseball practice will start again next Tuesday, June 11, from 5 o'clock till dark, according to Waverly Pratt, captain of the Sierra Madre team.

Plans are being made to enter the Monrovia League early in July and it will take intensive practice twice each week from now on to insure any chance of carrying off the honors. The practice days will probably be each Tuesday and Friday, Mr. Pratt says, and all who can play the old game are invited to come out.

Gigantic Task Confronts the Builders of the Great
Undertaking

Fifteen Kiwanians and their guests from Sierra Madre attended the trip of inspection to the new San Gabriel Dam just above Azusa Wednesday afternoon. The trip was planned by the Monrovia Kiwanis Club and the Kiwanians of Sierra Madre and Glendora were invited to join in to make the trip of general interest and enlightenment to the foothill country.

Those who went from here were O. A. Gierlich, H. E. Allen, Chas. B. Klunk, Ray Grant, J. E. Carpenter, E. A. Spencer, R. F. Richardson (visiting Kiwanians from San Luis Obispo), Dr. J. L. Woehler, A. D. Hughes, R. S. Corlett, W. D. Richards, W. J. Lawless, Waverly Pratt, Joe Swanson and Joseph L. Asbury.

The first thing on the program was a wonderful "feed" in the mess house of the construction camp. This put everybody in the proper frame of mind to give close attention to E. C. Eaton, chief engineer of the county flood control district, who explained in an able and interesting manner the nature and magnitude of the project now well under construction.

It was very interesting for the visitors to learn that in this dam there will be used four times as much concrete as was used in the construction of the next largest dam ever built in this country, built in New York state. The total amount of concrete to be used will be 4,000,000 cubic yards, which is one million more yards than will be required to construct the famous Boulder Dam at Las Vegas, Nevada. It will be as large as the total nine largest dams built in the United States in recent years.

This dam, which is to cost approximately $25,000,000, will require from five to seven years for completion, depending upon the length of the flood seasons during construction. If the seasons are average it will take seven years, but if they are practically the same as those of the past few dry years, it may be finished in five years.

The work so far is running about 10 per cent ahead of the estimated schedule due to the fact that 110,000 yards of rock and earth are being moved daily instead of 100,000 yards contemplated. Nearly 400 men are employed just now, but in about one year more they will use a maximum of 1500 men on the job. There are three shifts of men and the work is progressing 24 hours a day, the sluicing and blasting being done at night with the aid of giant flood lights. The men work 4 hours on and 4 hours off, owing to the very difficult work of drilling and tunneling the rock.

When completed, this dam will rise 432 feet above the stream bed and will extend 60 feet below the stream bed. It will be 412 feet thick at the base and 20 feet thick at the crest, or top. The length from one side to the other on top will be 2400 feet, and 290,000 acre feet of water will be impounded when the artificial lake is full. This water will back up five miles in each of the two forks of the river at this point, which will give a total length of about eleven miles to the lake.

All of the gravel and rock for the concrete work is available right there in the stream bed, so that only the cement will have to be brought in. A railroad has been built from Azusa to the works in order to transport materials and machinery. Already $500,000 worth of equipment and machinery has been placed in operation, and the contractors are in the East now placing orders for a million dollars' worth of additional equipment for the concrete work.

The construction work is being done by the combined forces of Fisher & Ross of Los Angeles and Macdonald-Kahn of San Francisco. Mr. Fisher was the contractor for the Sierra Madre dam, while Mr. Ross built the Santa Anita dam. All of the work is being done by electricity, the

Fire Flames

By One of the Boys

Some time in the past, not more than forty years ago, I occasionally pitched a fairly good game of baseball. When "Scotty" and his boys had finally succeeded in securing grounds to play on, I could picture the glorious times I was to have chasing the ball around. At every opportunity I was there at practices until someone asked me to pitch and (after having been out of the game for at least ten years) I did. I haven't played baseball since. The doctor said it was a touch of arthritis, but I forgot to tell him of the strenuous efforts I put forth to throw an out-curve.

However, I did not lose interest in the game, and whether the boys knew it or not, I was one of their loyal fans from then until the end of their games. Since the boys have been prohibited from playing on the Baldwin Avenue grounds, I have been hoping they would find another location. The Firemen will assist to the best of their ability in shaping a diamond if a suitable place is available.

One of my neighbors who happens to be an intimate friend, is also an ardent tennis player and although I always considered tennis a mild game, I accepted his invitation to play a "set." Our city park was the scene of the challenge. Opening up a box containing three fairly good balls, he instructed me as to my position and what goes with it. Well, I got three good swings at those balls and everyone of 'em went over the fence. One of them went into a neighbor's locked-up, wired-up and boarded-up chicken yard and the other two went into the park's incinerator and lath-house yard, which was also locked up with a lock about the size of a lunch pail. The fence around this yard is high, so that ended the tennis game. The keeper for this particular day was without a key. Noticing a crowd of small boys playing on the lawn with an indoor baseball, I asked if I could knock 'em some flies and this was heartily accepted. We were having quite a fine time when some kind gentleman was seen approaching the keeper. The keeper then approached me—and that was the end of that. We certainly need a place for boys (both big and small) to knock a ball around. Without any definite reason, the keeper asked us to stop playing ball there. He would only say, "there is some complaint."

We have finally been granted our wish as to a truck to carry first aid equipment, etc. Mr. E. L. Sapp, Buick dealer in Monrovia, has donated us a Buick. The boys have been working hard tearing it down and rebuilding it. The body has been turned over to George Norris, but not without some difficulties. Frank Lovell had worked strenuously in "dislocating" the body from its original chassis and called George as to directions for delivery. He was instructed to go thru the vacant lot adjoining the funeral parlor in order to get to George's back yard. Manager Conn of the parlors, happened to be sprinkling the lawn and halted Frank by asking him what he was doing. "I'm delivering a body," said Frank. "All right," said Mr. Conn, "bring it right down the driveway." "But this body goes to George Norris," yelled Frank, "and besides, it ain't that kind of a body."

At the last Chamber of Commerce meeting there was a great deal of discussion about the coming July 4th celebration in Sierra Madre. Methinks it would be a whole lot better than traveling the highways on such a day. The Firemen will probably be asked to take a part in this.

Although this is not our regular meeting night, the chief has called for a special meeting to-night at 7:30. This is to discuss and plan for some forth-coming important affairs and the chief urges a 100 per cent attendance.

To wait three weeks for a Firemen's night always seems too long, so let's all be there tonight. The chief didn't say whether it was a cap and badge night, so I for one will take a chance. Use your own discretion.

School Board Members to Be Voted On

Local Board Members Make Recommendations to

Sierra Madre voters may be surprised to know they have the privilege of voting today on candidates for the Pasadena board of education. This is by reason of the fact that Sierra Madre is part of the Pasadena high school district. The polling place in Sierra Madre is at the school house.

Mrs. Louise B. Hoblit, Judge Raymond G. Thompson and Wm. L. Blair have been endorsed by a large committee of citizens for the three positions to be filled. Mrs. Hoblit and Judge Thompson are members of the present board. Mr. Blair is associate managing editor of the Pasadena Star-News and a past president of the Kiwanis club. "A vote for the three people named above will help toward an assurance of a continuance of that friendly co-operation which has characterized all the dealings of the Pasadena board of education with Sierra Madre," is the statement made by Cecily A. Allen, clerk of the Sierra Madre school trustees, which organization officially endorses these three candidates.

Endorsement is made on the basis of the strong individual records of these three candidates and in the belief that they stand firmly for carrying out present school development plans for the benefit of the entire district. This feeling is shared by many local people who appreciate the value of the recent Sierra Madre school survey and other evidences of a desire on the part of the present Pasadena school administration to cooperate with Sierra Madre to the fullest extent.

Three members of the Pasadena board of education are to be chosen at this election, and five candidates are announced: Mrs. Hoblit, Judge Thompson, W. L. Blair, Mrs. Clara M. Odell and Lewis Davis.

Society and Personal

COMMUNITY BIRTHDAY PARTY

June the seventh, Friday night, the party is going to be, in the Congregational Social Hall. And you must come and see. The Woman's Society is the host. Its far-famed supper offers. Come at six-thirty, bring your gift. And help to fill the coffers. The envelope, we wish to state, is for your pennies bright. One for each year include, or more. And bring to your host that night. Should illness keep you, don't forget. Your part in this event. But let some friend bring in your coins.

For each year you have spent, Fear not lest you be reckoned old, The host is ever kind And says your age will not be told.

So bear this point in mind. Twelve different "stunts" will the program be;

You'll laugh as ne'er before, And not regret the fifty cents For the ticket at the door. Both old and new friends will be there.

With greeting warm and hearty, Come, then, and with your presence grace Your own birthday and party.

TOWN'S ALL RIGHT—JUST DIFFERENT

YOU simply can't please everybody, because everybody does not think alike. The outcome of the recent recall election was no exception to this rule, and the only thing for us all to do now is to show our good sportsmanship, abide by the decision of the majority, and keep plugging along without a whine. To be a good loser requires far more character than to be a good winner.

Let's keep faith in our town by all means. Just because we seem destined not to have an 80-foot boulevard at the present time is no sign that Sierra Madre has lost her right to existence or her claim to be one of the most ideal little suburban residence cities in the country.

A realization of the limitations of our city will tend to make us less unhappy than if we try to pattern after some other community which is situated entirely differently than we are here. We will never have a thriving industrial center even if we desire it, because we do not have proper transportation facilities. But we do have the making of a most excellent residence district, from the standpoint of climate, superior water, scenic advantages, fertile soil for marvelous flower gardens, and excellent church advantages for all denominations.

Sierra Madre is bound to grow, along with all the rest of Southern California, just as rapidly as the people in other parts of the United States find out what a favored land this is. Certain improvements should and will come as growth and conditions demand them. We cannot stand still, hence we must go forward steadily but cautiously.

If we cannot agree on a certain proposition, let's get together on something else. Having come recently from another state and having traveled over almost the entire Pacific Coast and Rocky Mountain region within the past year, we found that perhaps the most impressive thing about Southern California to those who have children is the remarkable school system that this state boasts. We must admit furthermore that it came as a distinct shock to find Sierra Madre's old frame school building for the elementary grades and total absence of accommodations for even junior high school pupils.

Surely this is one thing that every parent and far-seeing business man or woman can realize is a distinct handicap in the progress of this city. We cannot hope to induce more people to come here to make their homes when educational facilities fall so short of the high standard set by the state as a whole. A city of 5000 should blush for shame to hear such an adverse report as was made by the authorities from Pasadena who made such a thorough survey and comprehensive report upon our school system as a whole.

In an authorized statement by the Sierra Madre School Trustees published in The Sierra Madre News week before last, this body stated that they were "unanimous in feeling that the needs so indicated (in the survey) should be taken care of" and that "definite action will be advisable and necessary in the early fall."

This report by the school board was concluded as follows:

"This survey indicated that a bond issue of $214,000 would cover the need of buildings and grounds. This sum is within our capacity as a district."

"Let the people of Sierra Madre decide then whether the children are to have what they need; whether they are to continue in an increase of impaired eyesight caused by improperly lighted school rooms; whether they are to continue to suffer a menace to health from dampness and general unhygienic conditions. There is a limit to the amount of taxation that we can support. Would anyone dispute the fact that the greatest duty we owe is to the young of our community?"

Temple Times: Wise observers declare the President made a tactical blunder when he wrote a letter vetoing the proposed debt-reduction plan of farm relief before the bill was even introduced in the Senate. The Senate has zealously guarded its legislative prerogatives for more than a century, and if there is anything that makes a Senator bow his back and stand pat it is an advance veto. Farm relief legislation stands now about where it did five or six years ago.

Ohio State Journal: If the men on Mars also have six legs apiece, as the eminent scientist assures us the girls have, we wonder how much a two-pants suit costs on our neighboring planet.

AND THERE'S RELIEF FOR NO ONE THE "STRING" NEWSPAPER

COL. COPLEY, who recently bought a string of some twenty California daily newspapers with money not more than one degree removed from the power trust, is coming in for severe criticism, says the Hemet News, from Congress and from the independently-owned newspapers of the nation. It may be that Col. Copley has had no notion of serving a corporation master in his scheme to dominate Southern California journalism. It is possible that he regards his advent into a new field as a strictly business proposition. But whatever his purpose, it is not good for the cities his papers serve to have the newspaper industry controlled by wealthy outside influences.

The newspaper, of all civic institutions, is of most pre-eminent local concern. There may be excuse for chain stores, and possibly for chain banks, but the newspaper should have but a single concern, that to serve jealously and intelligently the community of which it is the printed spokesman. This paper does not believe that a newspaper publisher can divide this allegiance so thinly that it can cover a multitude of communities. And this is outside of the suspicion that interested corporations may have control of editorial policy thru the ownership of stocks or bonds.

Big business must learn that it is best to keep hands off the newspaper. It is too distinctively a quasi-public institution to permit of capitalistic domination and the newspaper publisher in order to give the kind of service the community demands and deserves must have no other thought than that of whole-hearted, loyal service to its home field.

SIERRA MADRE

BROUGHT to Sierra Madre and given hope for but a few short months of life, eight years ago, Mrs. Dorothy B. Poluse, though still an invalid, finds much inspiration from Sierra Madre's matchless setting, and writes as follows:

I love your mountains blue, Sierra Madre.
I love your winding trails and distant view;
The gentle sloping nook wherein you nestle—
The mountains lend alluring charm to you.

I love your verdant trees; your fragrant gardens;
The peaceful homes within your quiet fold.
The fair wistaria vine is twining 'round you,
And many a song-bird's nest, their branches hold.

From mountain height and distant, rolling ocean,
Your breezes come with healing on the wing;
To tired heart an weary aching body
Of peace and hope and strength anew they sing.

Mosaic-like, the valley spreads before you.
With town and village dotting here and there—
I wonder, could there be, Sierra Madre,
A spot in all the world, than you more fair?

"Beautiful art thou for situation,"
David sang of Zion, long ago.
And so I sing of you, Sierra Madre,
A fairer spot one need not wish to know.

WELL, WHY NOT?

CITIZENS of Corona are up-ending their portion of heaven and earth in an attempt to induce the government to construct the new $10,000,000 dirigible base in their locality. It's amazing high, but is a most commendable spirit, nevertheless.

That gives rise to a suggestion: Sierra Madre is just above the fog belt. At times when it has been impossible to land mail planes on the the various fields already constructed, it has been found feasible to alight on the Hastings ranch just west of his city. Such an incident happened a few days ago. Many believe the Hastings ranch should be made a county or state park. On the other hand, there is continual effort being made to buy it and sub-divide it. It would make a very superior air port.

Perhaps the powers that be could be persuaded to consider it as a site for the government dirigible base, which, in any event, will probably be well removed from the coast line.

DOUBLE-BARRELED RELIEF

FARM relief is still on the rocks. Congress seems in a mood to help any and everybody but the farmer—and the way out is perfectly clear. The farmer is, in the main, a victim of over-production—except when he is rained out, burned, hailed or closed out. In the mean time India, China or some other foreign country is intermittently or perpetually in the throes of a famine, which the American populace is expected to relieve by the expenditure of so much cash per capita. When we begin relieving these starving people by sending them grain, raised by American labor and paid for in American currency, there will be a relief program that will work two ways. Under the present conditions the American farmer suffers just about as much for producing too much as the "heathen Chinese" does for producing too little.

Of course right now the price of grain is up. But the farmers are all out of grain.

Whenever an American bank has a few thousand dollars to transfer to another banking institution, it calls for the armored truck and a squad of special police. A shipment of several million dollars in gold was sent from Germany to the United States recently and it was carried from the bank to the German wharf in a horse-drawn wagon with a single driver. Hoover's crime commission might well start—or conclude—its investigation in Germany.

OR INTO A DEPARTMENT STORE

LaHabra Star: It's an old story about Lot's wife looking back and turning into a pillar of salt, but the present danger is that when a woman looks back she is apt to turn into a telegraph pole.

Reservations

By J. R. E.

"IF I ONLY HAD A HUNDRED MILLION DOLLARS"

That was the first line of the chorus in an old-time song; and the writer went on to tell how many horses and buggies, and hi-balls, and spats, and things he would buy if he had that much money "and Hattie Green would only be my wife."

Maybe in those days he was full of laudable ambition—as well as other things. But times have changed.

Now days multi-millionaires give their money to colleges and universities—or spend it on horse races. But it's all wrong. Instead of making soft spots for a lot of young people, many of whom would be better off in father's office, minus a coon-skin coat and plus a feather duster, they ought to go about making the country more beautiful, especially for the folks who have had their noses to the well-known grind-stone all their lives and to whom the word Greek means just one more "American" restaurant.

If "Reservations" had a h.m.d. he'd buy out the Sierra Madre business section—every last foot of it. And then he'd proceed to build a business section of buildings just like Mr. Kersting's new buildings, and like Mr. Isaac's new post office building, and—we guess that's all. Reservations would commission Bert Finlayson to get all the low-downs on early Spanish art that he could scare up, and then he'd get the Buchan brothers to mix the "mud" and Frank Hildebrandt and George Moran, and the rest of the builders and build up the quaintest and most unique community in all the world—right here in Sierra Madre. It would give the visitors from the east something to talk about when they got back home.

Most of them, lured by gay-colored ads in the magazines, expect to see California a living, breathing image of the days that were. And when they get here they see moving-picture houses, automobile display rooms and—everything but what the hope to see, want to see, and ought to see.

And with a part of the h.m.d. Reservations would buy a lace mantilla for every senora, a gay shawl for every senorita, and a gay velvet costume, with slashes of red and yellow and purple satin for every bold h'mbre in the city—and make 'em wear all this finery to every public function—and there would be lots of public functions.

And after all this was done, Sierra Madre would probably be the most famous little city in the world, and everybody would forget politics and be gay and happy.

If Reservations only had a hundred-million-dollars!

And, Reservations wouldn't forget Bailey Canyon—only it would be called Belle (Bey-lyo) Canon.

"Reservations" has promised A. R. Gerlach to carry his heaviest camera into Bailey Canyon some day. And when Mr. Gerlach's pictures are displayed, many people who have lived in Sierra Madre for years will be amazed to know of its beauty.

The best way to clean up Chicago would be to make Mrs. O'Leary another cow—and a kerosene lantern.

Where would one go to pick up a kerosene lantern?

If Mrs. O'Leary's cow could have visualized Chicago as it is today, maybe she would have been satisfied to leave well enough alone.

Thirteen thousand new laws were passed in the United States last year. What a blessing it would be if at the same time the various legislatures would repeal an equal number that never did anybody any good!

Well, folks, let's either recall the roosters and the ducks, or everybody keep a couple. That would equalize the situation—and make everybody happy.

Scientists went way down to South America to see a total eclipse. They could have saved money by buying a ticket to Sierra Madre.

A New York woman says O'Neill "stole" the plot for "A Strange Interlude" from one of her books. Why, the brazen thing!

It is taking an unfair advantage of the school children to ask them to spell "villain," "separate," etc. They should try them on something easy, such as "Bacchanalia," "Reginald," "Coquette," "synchronized," etc.

First Water Camp Builds New Cabins To Care for Crowds

Several new cabins are being erected at First Water Camp in the Big Santa Anita Canyon, according to A. D. Choate, manager, in order to accommodate the crowds that continue to visit that well-known mountain resort, which is one of the oldest in this vicinity.

All of the buildings are being given a new coat of green and white paint which adds greatly to their attractiveness. Visitors to First Water Camp find a genuine "home-like" spirit prevailing and the prices for confections, tobacco, groceries and other supplies are just the same they would have to pay in the city, Mr. Choate says.

This camp is just a four-mile hike over an excellent trail from Sierra Madre. Mr. Choate advises making reservations by phone or mail in order to be sure of securing accommodations.

Sunday Mr. Seaman was entertained at a birthday dinner given in his honor in Arcadia, by his mother. Ten relatives of Mr. Seaman's were present.

Tuesday evening, June 11, at 8 o'clock, the students of Monrovia high school will present Cadman's famous light opera, "Lela-wala." The story is based on an Indian legend and the opera is said to be among the best works of the famous composer. Mr. Cadman will direct the final scene in person. Chief Yowlache, well known Indian baritone, has been secured as technical director of the production, and he will bring over, on the night of the play, a group of Indian dancers who have appeared in the films and at Grauman's Chinese theatre. The students are said to have reached a high state of perfection in their various roles. Many from Sierra Madre will be in attendance. Tickets may be secured by calling Monrovia Red 133, or the high school building.

GARDEN SECTION PICNIC

The Garden Section of the Woman's Club of which Mrs. A. R. Hinton is chairman, enjoyed a basket luncheon in Petzel's picnic grounds in the canyon, Wednesday. Following the luncheon Mrs. Lillian Higman of Pasadena spoke on garden designs and used for example a lot 50x150 feet, illustrating with cardboard figures and designs. She also reconstructed her garden for larger possibilities.

In the afternoon the two-acre terraced gardens of Henry Isaacs, laid out by Kato, former gardener to the emperor of Japan, with pools, grottos guarded by little gnomes, natural stepping stones leading to a charming vine-covered tea house, and carefully selected oriental shrubbery, were visited. Guests were conducted through the grounds by Mr. Blazys, head gardener who for two years was gardener at the Huntington estates, pointed out and named shrubs and trees. The members of the section were shown the usual hospitality of the charming host and hostess, on their tour.

The pleasant vistas and charming gardens of Mrs. R. A. Pratt, landscaped by Howard Smith, were next enjoyed, leaving the smaller but very perfect gardens of Mrs. A. A. Halsey which were landscaped by A. C. Brown, until the last. Mrs. Halsey, hostess for the day, was assisted by Mrs. William J. Lawless and Mrs. Laura Cline.

NARROWLY ESCAPED HOSPITAL DISASTER

Mrs. Emil Smith, the bride of Emil Smith, of the local post-office, thinks that a wedding, which was to have been a June event but was hastened more than a month, is responsible for her being alive today.

Mrs. Smith, previous to her wedding early in May, was a statistician in the filing department of the great Cleveland Clinic and Hospital which recently suffered an explosion fatal to more than a hundred people connected with the institution.

Mrs. Smith states that all her former associates, except two who were at luncheon at the time of the explosion, were killed. Many brilliant young doctors and internes, as well as x-ray specialists and nurses were victims of the disaster.

ENTERTAINS AT LUNCHEON

Mrs. Mary D. Goodfellow entertained old friends at a 1 o'clock luncheon Wednesday at her home, fourteen guests being present. The luncheon table was made attractive by a bowl of red roses. Appleby were also guests at the luncheon.

Mr. Sandage of Grand View Avenue was a member of the transportation committee for the Los Angeles Shrine convention. He states that in four hours time 40,000 visiting Shriners and their ladies in 4000 cars making two trips each, were given rides thru Los Angeles, Hollywood, Beverly Hills, down to the ocean and back again. Several blocks were roped off at Washington street to care for the huge crowd. The guests were given booklets with the names of the famous homes they were to pass, the numbers being displayed in conspicuous places on the estates. Twenty-five hundred cars were donated and the taxicabs pressed into service for the big undertaking which, according to Mr. Sandage, was the most pretentious of its kind ever to be organized at any convention.

CANNED FODDER

This new corn-stalk paper is all right, but it has its drawbacks. Not very long ago a drayman attempted to deliver several reams of this paper to the P. V. office. The American Legion wishes to thank those who have helped to make the Sierra Madre Cemetery more presentable this year. Whether they gave money to the cleaning-up fund, set out plants or shrubs, or kept their lots looking neat and clean—it all helped. The Legion thanks those who felt too poor this year to donate to the fund but who had a kind word for the results attained.

Special credit is given the Legion Auxiliary for their thoughtfulness in planting ivy on the uncare-for graves of veterans and for making wreaths for all service men's graves on Decoration Day. The ladies of the Friendship Club of the Congregational Church exemplified a very fine spirit by making over 150 bouquets and placing them on such graves as would otherwise have been without decoration.

The list of those who donated to the clean-up fund is as follows: Cemetery Association, $10; E. S. Ullman, $15; Dr. C. N. Barker, $15; Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Farnham, $5; C. E. Hoover, $5; J. M. Gresham, $5; Mrs. Thos. Henszey, $5; Mrs. Grace Hall, $5; H. L. Casad, $3; George Norris, $3; Alice Tufts, $2.50; Mrs. L. Lichtenstein, $2; Mrs. Emma Wallace, $5; A. Johnson, Jr., $2; Martin Olsen, $2; J. N. Cook, $1; Mrs. F. C. Dickson, $3; Fred Breininger, $3; Mrs. George Cox, $1; Louise Gray, $1; W. B. Clark, $1; Miss Jean Green, $1; F. H. Hartman, $1; W. Knowles, $1; T. P. Cook, $1; A. N. Adams, $2; Mrs. H. Hill, $1; Mrs. Telford, $1; C. M. Clark, 2; Mrs. Kittie Buie, $1; S. C. Collins, $2; A. Gregory, $2.50; D. J. Reed, $1; Sarah Triplett, $2; Capt. J. E. Whiting, $1; total, $114.

The expense this year is as follows: E. Beaver, labor in February, $16.50; M. L. Thompson, labor in March and April, $17; E. R. Woods, labor in May, $74.50; Ralph Tyree, labor in May, $6.50; total $114.50.

More work was done on the cemetery this year, according to Dr. C. N. Barker, chairman of the committee, than ever before, but for some reason the donations to the fund decreased. Every lot owner is supposed to keep his own lot free from weeds, even if it is not planted to flowers or shrubs, but many of the lot owners are indifferent and let their lots go and these must be cleaned by the owners of the remaining lots. The weeds in the paths must also be kept down. It is hoped those lot owners who were at the cemetery on Decoration Day will see the need of the continuance of this work and do their share.

"The Time, The Place and the Girl" Warner Brothers latest and said to be the best all talking comedy feature, with an all star cast of well known players, will be presented at the Monrovia Lyric theatre during the coming week. This fine theatre continues to add many people from Sierra Madre to its growing list of patrons, local residents appreciating the fact that down-town attractions are now available at our very doors.

"The Voice of the City," an M-G-M all talking picture, will be seen at the Lyric June 14 and 15. It is a fast moving story relating the chase of an escaped convict by a detective, a fine romance and the final clearing of the name of the convict.

On Sunday and Monday, June 9 and 10, Edmund Lowe and Warner Baxter will be seen in "Thru Different Eyes," an all-dialog Fox Movietone play. These popular players from "In Old Arizona" add greatly to their popularity in their work in this latest melodrama from the Fox studios. The various bills thruout the week are supplemented by the usual news and vaudeville film features and the Lyric organ recitals which are proving popular with local film fans.

Leroy McBurney Adjudget Most Popular Among His Fellows

The 10-2 class of Woodrow Wilson junior high school recently held an election to determine who was, in the judgment of the class, the prettiest girl, the handsomest boy, the most popular girl and the most popular boy. While the election was on, the 10-2 home rooms rang with merriment, both at the results of the primary election and at the final announcement. The winners' ears burned from such pertinent remarks as "You'll have to keep the powder puff busy now, Nora." "Have you signed with Paramount yet, Dick?"

The results of the election were as follows: Leonora Pridham, the prettiest girl; Richard Whittall, handsomest boy; Bertha Lee Fitz-Gerald, most popular girl; Leroy McBurney, most popular boy. This election was a part of the activities of the 10-2 class whose officers are, Leroy McBurney, president; Leonora Pridham, vice president; Jeanne Antisdale, secretary-treasurer.

'Norm' Opens New Building For Inspection

Sets Monday, June 10, as the Date for Official 'Open House'

Norm's Garage and Service Station, 54 North Baldwin Ave., announces "Open House" Monday, June 10, to allow the public to inspect the beautiful new building which has just been completed after two months of intensive building operations on the corner of Baldwin and Montecito.

Such buildings mark still further progress in the improvement and growth of Sierra Madre's business center and Mr. Morrison deserves to be congratulated upon his enterprise and confidence in the city. The building represents an expenditure of approximately $6000 and was practically all done by local contractors.

Constructed of attractive cream colored pressed brick facing, with solid brick walls, cement floors, and heavy steel sliding doors, this building is pronounced just as near fire-proof as it is possible to make them.

An outstanding feature is a handsome display room facing on Baldwin, which is 30x30 feet, with large plate glass window seven feet high and sixteen feet wide. This will be used as a show room for some popular make of automobile yet to be decided. The whole building will be leased to some dealer who will have all facilities for a modern sales, storage and garage service. The Morrison family will confine their attention to the service station.

There is a large room at the back and to the side of the display room, size 30 by 60 feet, which will be used for car storage, washing, greasing and repairing. There is also a full basement underneath this part of the building with an opening on Montecito Avenue which may also be used for additional storage room.

Some of the very latest mechanical automotive equipment has been installed, including a battery charger, valve facer, brake liner, piston liner, and high-pressure greasing equipment for cars with the Alemite or Zerk system. A greasing pit and wash rack furnish facilities for giving the motorist efficient and prompt service second to none, Mr. Morrison declares.

Adohr Dairy Takes Big Space to Introduce Product

Announcing their entry into the Sierra Madre markets with a large advertisement in this issue, the Adohr Dairy places their famous product within reach of every home in this city.

This company has shown a remarkable growth during the past few years, the growth being attributed to two prime factors: Excellence of their product and an intensive advertising campaign. The distribution of Adohr products embraces practically all communities in the metropolitan area.

Local residents who take advantage of the sale are urged to acquaint Mr. Eklund with the fact that they are from Sierra Madre and are interested in his house, the nearest music establishment to local residents.

the city hall, consisting of tables, chairs, desks, maps and office equipment was increased from $1000 to $4000. A request for $300 by the American Legion was passed, this amount being the city's allotment to the Legion for reconditioning the basement of the city hall, a five-year lease for which was recently awarded to the Legion by the council.

A protest on the culvert at Baldwin Avenue and West Montecito was presented by the Bethany Church, and was held over until the next meeting of the board for action. A counter-protest was read to the effect that the original protest does not represent 50 per cent of the area involved in the project. City Engineer Gierlich estimated that the matter in dispute represents a difference of approximately $1000.

The resolution of intention for cleaning of lots was given its first reading and J. C. Carpenter, street and water superintendent, stated that work done was in duplicate of last year's program but that a more complete survey had been made this year.

Mother's Club To Elect Officers At Next Meeting

The Mothers' Club of the Congregational Church will hold the last meeting of the year on Friday, June 14, at 3 o'clock, in the Ladies Parlors. After a short business meeting for the purpose of electing officers for the coming year Mrs. Edith Hawxhurst will talk on Child Corrective Work.

Mrs. Hawxhurst has taken up this work quite extensively for the past five years and is in a position to give a great deal of helpful information to mothers. Mrs. Gilbert Keyes and Mrs. D. Vanderpool will have charge of refreshments.

A cordial invitation is extended to all mothers interested in child training.

Kiwanians Inspect San Gabriel Dam

giant transformer having a capacity of 6,000 horse power, and about 1000 of that being used now. The cooking for the fourteen meals served daily is done on electric ranges and General Electric refrigerator drinking water plants have been established all over the works. The meals are both abundant and exceptionally well balanced and prepared.

The rock and earth is loaded by huge steam shovels, having a capacity of from two to four cubic yards at a "bite," into gondola cars with a capacity of 30 yards. These are pulled by powerful little gasoline engines which consume some 1000 gallons of gas per day. (This, by the way, is the only part of the work not done by electricity). The contractor receives $3 for each yard of rock removed, and since each engine pulls three cars of 30 yards each, these little trains represent an expenditure of $270 for each trip to the dump.

When completed, there will be a good road entirely around the lake and across the dam which latter will be lighted up with numerous electroliters.

Sierra Madre

By V. ADELLE HOWLAND

Author of "The Science of Knowing Ourselves" and "Temptation"

Sierra Madre Canyon, the home of the violet,
The woodbine and sweet smelling briar;
Where the winds make love in the tree tops
And the bees gather sweets from the flower.

Where the violets are sleeping in sweet repose
In the bed the trees are making
By casting their leaves like golden sheaves
While tender watch they are keeping.

Kind nature sends her tear drops down
To water her fragrant flowers,
While the birds are caroling in dulcet tones
Their songs from their leafy bowers.

Oh the life in the Canyon is sweet
To him who loves the shadowy bowers,
Where the gentle rest and sweet repose
Repay long, ill-spent hours.

Oh come to Sierra Madre, to Sierra Madre Canyon—
Can't you hear Nature's kind voice call?
My home is intended, my invitation extended,
To tired and weary ones all.

Lineman Falls From High Pole; Cut Under Chin

Falling from the very top of a tall pole early Monday afternoon, P. G. Donald, an employee of the Southern California Edison Company, probably owes his life to the protection of the cross arm which struck the ground first and broke the fall of the pole.

The pole which was located in front of the Harvey property at 137 East Highland Drive was rotted almost entirely off at the ground. Donald was strapped to it when it fell. He was treated by Dr. G. W. Groth and taken to his home in Monrovia. The principal injury was a bad cut under the chin, but Dr. Groth stated yesterday that the patient is improving nicely.
